Mariel Foster is a native of Baltimore, Maryland, and was raised in Jacksonville, Florida. A proud graduate of the Florida Institute of Technology, she holds a Master of Science in Information Technology. Mariel works full-time as Vice President of Product Management for one of the largest banks.

With a passion for helping others succeed, Mariel is the owner of Fostering Success Consultants, LLC, an event planning business dedicated to creating memorable experiences for clients.

She volunteers by assembling care packages for the unhoused each year, which include toiletries, snacks, and blankets, sponsored by her family and friends. She also participates in the annual Thanksgiving Basket Brigade with her real estate brokerage, providing essential support to those in need.

Outside of her professional accomplishments, Mariel is a loving mom to a high schooler and a fur baby. She is deeply committed to her family and takes pride in balancing her career and personal life with love, dedication, and enthusiasm.
